A gentle, community building dance experience for everyone, including people living with memory loss, care partners and staff members. During the workshop, engage in a variety of international and contemporary folk dances with inspiring music and simple moves.

Seated options available.

Watercolor

Friday, May 5, 10:30am–12pm

During this hands on workshop, explore contemporary watercolor paintings, and learn how to express an idea or an object by painting a still life.

Sharing Our Stories

Friday, May 12, 10:30am–12pm

Everyday objects, old photos, advertisements, and favorite music become sparks for celebrations of past and present moments during this interactive storytelling workshop. Engage in a reminiscence session, and work together to tell the stories using storytelling techniques, improvisation and drama.

Join us for creative arts workshops for people with memory loss and their care partners on Friday mornings in April and May. Each workshop is taught by an experienced and trained Silver Kite Community Arts teaching artist who will invite participants into gentle and creative arts experiences designed to be fun and relaxing. Silver Kite teaching artists Noel Sherrard and Susan Wickett-Ford will be facilitating the workshops, among others.
