Thursday,
August 17, 2017
10:00-11:00 a.m.

The Central Building
1st Floor Conference Room
810 3rd Avenue

(Between Columbia & Marion Streets in downtown Seattle)

What is Alzheimer's disease, how is it diagnosed, and what treatments are available? How do I know the difference between normal changes in memory that occur with aging, and Alzheimer's? Is there a cure on the horizon?

What are the policy implications for us as we consider the long term care needs for a huge generation of baby boomers at risk of developing Alzheimer's or a related disorder?

Joanne Maher, Director of Programs and Services, will provide an overview of Alzheimer's disease, and the challenges that lie ahead.

For questions about accessibility or to request an accommodation, contact Rowena Rye (206-684-0500 or seniors@seattle.gov). Requests should be made as soon as possible (at least three days prior to the event).

Mayor's Office for Senior Citizens Coffee Hours are held on the third Thursday of every month at the Central Building and on other dates in Seattle neighborhoods.

The events bring community elders closer to City officials to explore topics of interest. Presentations often include cutting edge information about healthy aging, legal and planning issues, and more.

Participants learn about City programs and services, and officials hear from their constituents.
